Days are from direct seeding to harvest. Sow 1/2" deep, 1" apart, from 4–6 weeks before last frost until the weather turns hot, and again from late summer. Sow winter types 8–10 weeks before fall frost.

Quick and even

Radishes need steady moisture and cool weather. Dry soil or heat makes them hot, woody or split, and long days make them bolt.

Thinning

Thin spring radishes to 1–2 in. apart and daikon to 4–6 in. Crowded radishes make leaves instead of roots.

Harvest on time

Pull spring radishes as soon as they size up; most turn pithy within a week. Winter radishes hold in the ground until hard frost.

Easter Egg

Watermelon
